Facts on Polar “Bare” Fun Run hosted by STAT

The Polar “Bare” Fun Run is a new SIUE event this year. Participants will run one mile around the Stratton Quad “nearly-naked” to support the Glen-Ed Food Pantry.

Facts about the event:

- The event is sponsored by SIUE’s STAT, Students Today Alumni Tomorrow
- The run will take place at the Stratton Quad next to the Morris University Center
- The event will be held Friday, Feb. 21. Check-in begins at 7:30 p.m. followed by the run at 8p.m.
- The purpose of the event is to donate warm clothing to the Glen-Ed Food Pantry and to have a great time with friends
- Participants can register online at www.siue.edu/alumni or at Birger Hall
- Participants must wear a minimum of swimsuit coverage; however, creativity is highly encouraged
- Registration fee is $10 plus one warm-clothing item. The fee includes a Polar “Bare” Fun Run T-shirt, cookies and hot chocolate in the warm-up tent and music by Smitty’s DJ Service
- Only SIUE students are allowed to participate in this event
